Subject: Cypress Sale of Minnesota Wafer Fabrication Facility

To: FUTURE ELECTRONICS
FUTURE ELE
pcn.system@futureelectronics.com

Description:

Cypress Semiconductor Corporation recently announced that it has sold the subsidiary that owns its Fab 4 semiconductor wafer fabrication facility in Bloomington, Minnesota. SkyWater Technology Foundry, which is backed by Minnesota-based holding company Oxbow Industries, LLC purchased the capital stock of the subsidiary and will operate the wafer fab as a standalone business. In addition to continuing to supply wafers to Cypress, SkyWater will also fabricate wafers for other semiconductor companies. This transaction will allow Cypress to reduce its manufacturing footprint and cost structure while increasing the utilization of its more cost-competitive Fab 25 in Austin, Texas, as part of the overall Cypress plan to improve gross margins. The agreement with SkyWater Technology Foundry guarantees Cypress continued capacity for production of products currently produced in Fab 4. Any product location changes will be announced and managed via the official Cypress PCN process.

Cypress's decision to sell Fab 4 is consistent with the company's Flexible Manufacturing initiative, which combines capacity from leading foundries with output from Cypress's largest internal fab. The initiative allows Cypress to meet rapid swings in customer demand without the burden of high fixed costs, a capability that is particularly important in high-volume consumer markets that the company serves with its leading Flash, IoT, MCU, SRAM and programmable product portfolios.

Implementation Date:

This sale was effective on March 1st, 2017.
